October is Canadian Library Month

This October, celebrate Canadian Library Month and Ontario Public Library Week (OPLW) with Bruce County Public Library. OPLW takes place the week of October 20, and this year's theme is Libraries for Life. BCPL will showcase services and products they offer that support different ages and stages of development. They will also host local authors all month long at various Branches throughout Bruce County.

Starting Friday, October 11 at 1pm, community members are invited to hear local author Cindy Matthews read from her second book of short stories, The Roach Farm and Other Stories, at the Chesley Branch. Tuesday, October 22, at 7pm, the Walkerton Branch will host a special author event with Michelle Unsworth-Foote, to discuss her book *How to Get Your Sh*t Together (so your loved ones don't have to do it for you)*. Please register at the Walkerton Branch in advance to attend this event. BCPL will close out the month by showcasing local talent with the return of their popular Read Local Event, taking place Wednesday, October 23, from 5:30 to 7:30pm at the Kincardine Branch. This is your chance to meet and connect with six talented local authors and find your next hidden gem among their many titles.

BCPL is also shining light on the many non-traditional items and online resources they offer that help support the different ages and stages of development. Throughout the week of October 20, they will highlight on their social media channels different age groups and the supports available to them, covering everyone from birth to seniors. Some things that you can expect to learn about are their Me, You and a Book Too bags for newborns and Be Active Sports Kits, Tech Kits and online services like Mango Languages and World Book for school-age kids. For families and adults, you can borrow park and museum passes and fishing rods, or stream thousands of TV shows and movies with Kanopy. Seniors and their care partners can access Memory Kits and useful resources like the Canadian Reference Centre. These hardly scratch the surface of what is available with your BCPL card.

“As we celebrate Canadian Library Month and Ontario Public Library Week, we are proud to highlight the ever-growing range of resources that extend beyond traditional Library items. We invite the community to visit one of our 17 Branches throughout Bruce County or make their way to a Bookmobile stop to learn how much BCPL has to offer,” said Library Director Brooke McLean.

Learn more about non-traditional items available to borrow on the Bruce County Public Library Website.

Bruce County Public Library is committed to its role as a trusted community connect digital community facilitator and community sharing place. Consisting of 17 Branche and a Bookmobile BCPL provides access to information, resources, and programs throughout Bruce County.

Bruce County has prepared a draft new Official Plan that will guide growth in the County to 2046.

The draft plan reflects the results of a broad engagement project called Bruce GPS, current provincial direction, and the Bruce County context.

There are many ways to learn more and engage on the Draft New Bruce County Official Plan!

These include:

1. Exploring the interactive map of the draft New Official Plan schedules, showing proposed land use designations (such as Agriculture and Rural), resources, constraints, and the Natural Environment System, and a slider tool that allows

- comparison to the current Official Plan.
2. Reading the Draft New Official Plan. Digital copies are available here and paper copies are available in the reference section of any Bruce County library branch, the bookmobile, or at the regional planning office (30 Park St. Walkerton, 268 Berford St. Wiarton, or 1243 MacKenzie Rd. Port Elgin.)
 3. Completing a survey that offers questions and opportunities to identify areas of interest, concerns, and ideas for improvement.
 4. Booking a one-on-one meeting with County Staff
 5. Registering for project updates at www.planthebruce.ca

The Official Plan is an important document that guides where and how our communities grow. Public comments will help to refine the plan before it is presented to the County Council for adoption later this year.

Bruce County Council received the draft 2025 Capital and Operating Budget

This budget is an important step to realizing the vision set out in the 2023-2026 Bruce County Strategic Plan, our Indigenous Reconciliation Framework, and the implementation of other council endorsed initiatives that are foundational in realizing the strategic vision.

October 10, 2024

On Thursday, October 10, 2024, Bruce County Council received the draft 2025 Capital and Operating Budget. This budget is an important step to realizing the vision set out in the 2023-2026 Bruce County Strategic Plan, our Indigenous Reconciliation Framework, and the implementation of other council endorsed initiatives that are foundational in realizing the strategic vision.

The current municipal budget environment, across the province, presents challenges. The Federation of Canadian Municipalities show that only 8 cents of every tax dollar goes to municipalities, the rest going to the provincial and federal governments. However, municipalities are responsible for much of the infrastructure and services we use in our daily lives. The Association of Municipalities of Ontario has called for a renewed funding model for municipalities through their request for a Social and Economic Prosperity Review. Their initial work showed that municipalities are subsidizing areas of provincial responsibility. In fact, Bruce County in 2022 provided over $37 Million in additional funding for housing, health services, and social services, beyond the provincial funding for these programs.

While the pressures outlined above are real, the draft 2025 Budget keeps levy increase moderate while focusing on key strategic initiatives, including:

Investing in healthcare and wellness across the County, including expanding the community paramedic program, investments in Brightshore's mental health centre, Community Safety and Wellbeing, and primary care recruitment ensuring Bruce County has access to quality services.

Funding for an Additional Residential Unit pilot program to address housing affordability across the County.

Implementation of the Bruce County Indigenous Reconciliation Framework, and Bruce County's Saugeen Anishnaabek Reconciliation Pathway and Action Plan acknowledging the Saugeen Ojibway Nation, as knowledge keepers in their traditional territory, and recognizes our unique government to government relationship with the Saugeen Ojibway Nation.

Develop services to support innovation and resiliency in Bruce County's Agriculture sector, including funding for the Agri-Food Innovation Grant and providing direct support to producers to access federal and provincial support programs.

Leading the creation of a Clean Energy Transition Cluster ensuring local business are supported to transition to clean sources of energy.

Implementation of Rural Homelessness Response program to reduce chronic homelessness across the County.

Development of an Age Friendly Community strategy recognized by the World Health Organization to ensure all are welcome in Bruce County.

Importantly, the draft 2025 Budget invests in the County's Asset Management Plan. This provides for a 2.5% investment in the maintenance of County infrastructure such as roads, bridges, paramedic stations, etc. This investment ensures the long-term sustainability of these assets.

This year's draft budget includes a 6.81% levy (tax) increase. This increase is made up of two parts:

4.04% for maintaining services. This amount is the investment needed to continue to deliver the services and infrastructure that exist today.

2.77% of the increase is for new initiatives or assets. This increase pays for the development of new services or assets that are outlined in our strategic plan.

Bruce County Council will conduct budget review, discussion, and direction into November with the potential for budget approval and adoption in December.

Warden Chris Peabody commented, "Council has worked diligently over the past two years to set the strategic direction for the County. We appreciate staff tabling a 2025 draft budget that aligns to that strategy. Council will discuss this budget over the coming weeks to deliver for Bruce County. Balancing investment in needed infrastructure and services, with fiscal reasonability."

Bruce County has begun building the 2025 Asset Management Plan and is eager to hear input on levels of service from the public. Participating in the 2025 Levels of Service Questionnaire will help shape priorities and provide feedback on value and sustainability.

“Bruce County is committed to providing a high quality of life and exceptional services to our residents. As our community continues to grow, we must invest your tax dollars wisely to maintain and improve our infrastructure, including roads, bridges, trails, facilities, and municipal vehicles,” said Warden Chris Peabody. “Your input is crucial for Bruce County’s strategic planning and asset management.”

The 2025 Levels of Service Questionnaire provides residents, property owners, and businesses with an opportunity to share thoughts on the strengths and weaknesses of County services and give feedback on priorities for the coming years. The information gathered from the questionnaire will be used to develop the forward-looking proposed levels of service for the

“The goal of asset management is to deliver an adequate level of service in the most cost-effective manner over the long term,” added Sam Dinsmore, Director of Corporate Services. “Effective asset management can ensure that public infrastructure is managed to support the sustainable delivery of services.”

Share input in the 2025 Levels of Service Questionnaire by Tuesday, November 5, 2024. This opportunity to provide feedback will only take a few minutes to complete. Responses will only be published in anonymous format.

Federal, provincial programs available to help seniors with cost of dental care

Grey Bruce Public Health and Bruce County are collaborating to raise awareness about the critical link between oral health and overall health as well as available government-funded programs to help eligible seniors cover the cost of dental care.

October 21, 2024

Grey Bruce Public Health and Bruce County are collaborating to raise awareness about the critical link between oral health and overall health as well as available government-funded programs to help eligible seniors cover the cost of dental care.

The Canadian Dental Care Plan (CDCP) and Ontario Seniors Dental Care Program (OSDCP) are both designed to assist seniors who face financial barriers to receiving routine and restorative dental services.

“Research continues to show that a healthy mouth is key to good overall health and well-being,” says Jason Wepler, Manager of the Oral Health Program at Grey Bruce Public Health.

“Oral health problems, which are more prevalent in older adults, can negatively impact a person’s quality of life — as they can cause pain, anxiety, and discomfort, and impact eating, sleep, and self-esteem. Evidence also shows connections between oral diseases, which include tooth decay and gum disease, and other diseases in the body, such as Type 2 diabetes and diseases of the heart and lungs.”

However, about 40% of seniors aged 65 and older and more than half of seniors over age 85, report not visiting an oral health professional in the previous 12 months. Just over one in 10 Canadians aged 60 to 79 has untreated cavities, while nearly half of seniors in that age range have gum disease.

The rate of seniors in Grey-Bruce who visited an emergency department due to an oral health condition in 2022 was more than double the provincial average.

“Cost can be a major barrier to accessing oral healthcare. The Canadian Dental Care Plan and Ontario Seniors Dental Care Program help to address this barrier by covering the cost of many oral treatments for eligible seniors,” Wepler says.

Grey Bruce Public Health and Bruce County are working together to help promote the two dental care plans to seniors in the area. A social media campaign will be launched to help inform residents of the two programs, including the eligibility criteria, covered services, and how to apply. Posters and other educational materials will also be posted in area communities.

“Good oral health is essential for overall well-being, especially for seniors. The Bruce County Long Term Care & Senior Services department encourages all eligible seniors to utilize these dental care programs,” says Megan Garland, Bruce County Director of Long Term Care & Senior Services. “Regular dental visits not only keep teeth and gums healthy, but also support overall health and enhance quality of life. Seniors in need of support with navigating these dental programs can email seniorservices@brucecounty.on.ca.”

PROVINCIAL AND FEDERAL DENTAL CARE PROGRAMS

The Ontario Seniors Dental Care Program covers the cost of routine dental services, including check-ups, cleanings, x-rays, fillings, and treatment of gum conditions, for qualifying seniors aged 65 and older who meet income requirements and do not have other forms of dental benefits.

Services covered by the OSDCP are provided at Grey Bruce Public Health dental clinics, located in Owen Sound, Walkerton, Markdale, and Wiarton.

Meanwhile, seniors with an adjusted net family income of less than $90,000 and no dental insurance can also apply for the Canadian Dental Care Plan, which covers the cost of a range of oral health services.

Qualifying patients can receive services covered by the federal program at any private dental clinic that accepts CDCP clients. GBPH clinics do not provide services covered by the CDCP.

Seniors may qualify for assistance under both the federal and provincial programs.

Applications for the OSDCP are available at Grey Bruce Public Health, 101 17th St. E. in Owen Sound, South East Grey Community Health Centre, 55 Victoria Ave. in Markdale, or online at the following link: Seniors Dental.

For more information about the provincial program, call GBPH’s Oral Health team at 519-376-9420 and press 8. More information on the CDCP is available at Canada.ca/dental.

This year marks the 80th anniversary of the historic D-Day invasion, a pivotal event during World War II that changed the course of history. In honour of the bravery and sacrifices of those who served, the Bruce County Museum & Cultural Centre will host a special event: Honouring D-Day: Uniforms, Weapons & Equipment Show on Saturday, November 2, 2024.

Local historian and avid WWII collector Alexander Peroff will present a remarkable display of authentic artefacts from both the Canadian and Axis armed forces. This is a rare chance to witness history up close, offering attendees a unique, tangible connection to the past through uniforms, weapons, and other military equipment used during WWII.

The event is designed to cater to both adults and families, with two distinct sessions:

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM: Artefact Show & Tell for Kids & Families (Ages 8-12)

This interactive session will allow younger audiences to engage with history with a show and tell period and an artefact identification activity.

1:00 PM – 2:00 PM: Teens & Adults Presentation in Bruce Power Theatre

For a deeper historical dive, Alexander Peroff will deliver a presentation in the Bruce Power Theatre, followed by an in-depth artefact show and tell.

Content Advisory: This program contains subject matter that may be disturbing to some visitors. Parental discretion is advised.

The event is FREE for Museum Members and Veterans. General admission fees apply for non-members.

Preregistration is required. For full details and registration, visit brucemuseum.ca.

About Alexander Peroff

Alexander Peroff, the owner and operator of the traveling museum “Frontline Journeys,” has dedicated his career to making history accessible and engaging for all ages. For over 15 years, Peroff has been collecting artifacts related to Canada’s contributions during World War II. Frontline Journeys offers a unique opportunity for individuals to explore history hands-on, ensuring that the stories of all Canadians during this period are remembered and appreciated by future generations.

Managing all aspects of Frontline Journeys, Peroff curates exhibits, maintains collections, and organizes educational programs and events. His fiancée, Kayla, plays a crucial role in curating the collection and cataloguing pieces, contributing to the museum’s success.

About the Bruce County Museum & Cultural Centre

The Bruce County Museum & Cultural Centre offers adult and children’s programming, special events, and is home to the Bruce County Archives & Research Room. Our mandate is to preserve and make available the documentary heritage of Bruce County.
